	“Death is swallowed up in victory.” Yet, we can still kill with our words. “The test of a man is in his conversation.” By words we can cultivate friendship, foster a family or even enlarge the Church. Words are tools of communication, and communion. But when they become corrosive, artificial or untrue, we are using them to demolish each other

Seeing your life through the lens of the Gospel:

Luke 6:39-45

1. Can you remember an occasion when you were giving out about the behaviour of another person, and later realised you had some of the same fault yourself? Was that a wake-up call for you? Jesus tells us it is more constructive to correct our own faults, than complain about the faults of others.

2. If we want to help other people, we need to have our feet on the ground, with a realistic awareness of our gifts and our limitations. Otherwise we will be impractical, like the blind leading the blind. What has helped you to be realistic about what you can and cannot do?

3. 'No good tree bears bad fruit, nor again does a bad tree bear good fruit.' This parable invites us to examine the motivation behind what we do. If our basic motivation is love, then our lives will bear good fruit. If love is absent from our lives, then the fruits will be conflict, disharmony and abuse of people for our own selfish ends.

The Echo of Ashes

"Remember you are dust and to dust you shall return."

the large brown bowl
rests on a purple cloth
its roundness holding ashes freshly burned
black and ready for wearing.

blackened thumbs
press the ancient sign
upon the waiting foreheads.

I hear the message repeated until it haunts and hunts me down:
remember, remember, remember you are dust, dust, only dust someday only dust will remain.

the echo of the Lent-stained ashes
speaks the truth of my humanity:
the humbleness of my beginning,
the simplicity of my departure.

A few wise words
echoing through Ash Wednesday
urge me to deeper things:
renewed dedication,
constant compassion,
and mindful awareness.

I leave marveling
at how simple and sublime
is this envelope of the soul,
which one day returns
to dust, dust, only dust.

Ecumenical Contemplative /Meditation Meetings: commencing on Saturday March 5th at 11 a.m. - 12noon in the Friary Rossnowlagh and continues throughout the six weeks leading up to Easter. These meetings are geared towards people of all denominations and none who wish to discover how a calm period of contemplation and reflection benefits our health and wellbeing as well as our spiritual development. Each meeting will have a short spiritual reading and 25 minutes of silent reflection, followed by a cup of tea and a chat. Meditation and contemplation are important parts of all faith traditions but it can be difficult to take time out of our busy lives to experience the deep inner peace that silence and contemplative prayer can bring. Park at Friary Hall (behind the Church) and follow the signs along the covered walk to the back entrance to the Friary building for easy access to the meeting room. Current Covid regulations will be in place.
